A. A. Sargent, city attorney and acting judge, left to-day for Ludlow for a few days at the home of his parents. Before departing he received the records of police court, being John Hayes of Graniteville $5 and costs of $6.30 for an intoxication charge.

Clinton F. Millar of Barre, who with Lester H. Greene of Montpelier attended the recent convention of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine in Chicago, was honored by election as one of the seven directors of the organization, being the only one from New England. The convention was attended by representatives from every one of the temples in North America. The annual meeting of the imperial council will be held at Indianapolis June 10 to 13.

Very appropriate Memorial exercises preceded the closing of the Spaulding graded and high school for the week-end holiday, scholars being excused from the remainder of the sessions of today.

Three interesting speakers, all of whom have seen extensive service in warfare, addressed the large student body of 800 young people. Both the days of '61 and those of the world war were related briefly by Neale W. Hooker, who served under the colors of the Yankee division for almost two years, E. L. Smith, a civil war veteran and a member of the 6th regiment of the 1st Vermont brigade, famed for its gallant service in the Civil war, and John Gordon, Jr., a truck driver under French and Italian flags in Europe. The school, as if by one voice, sang the French national anthem "Marseillaise," during the exercises and finally "The Star Spangled Banner."

One of the proudest possessions of Claude Druge, for five years a "Blue Devil" of the French army, who recently returned to Barre to re-open his tailor shop in the L. M. Averill building, is a French war cross, with which the tailor was decorated at the hands of General Maistre. It will be recalled that Mr. Druge closed his business in Barre and left for France in the hectic August days of 1914. Within four weeks he was wearing the uniform of the Alpines Chasseurs, and thereafter for more than four years he was in the military service of the French republic. He was attached to the 68th battalion, which saw hard fighting, and his first citation, carrying with it the right to wear the gold shoulder cord, came in 1917, when a little detachment of chasseurs, of which he was one, captured 150 Huns and three machine guns. His citation, in orders by General Fayolle, was followed shortly afterward by the conferring of the French war cross with one star. Mr. Druge exhibits his cross, the gold cord and the citation with becoming modesty, although to him they are priceless mementoes of his experience in the great war.

Stated convocation of St. Al-demar commandery, No. 11, K. T. Thursday at 7:30, also special convocation Friday at 9:30 a. m. to act as escort to G. A. R.

MONTPELIER

City to Apply for Its Portion of the State Bridge Money.

The regular meeting of Montpelier city council took place Wednesday evening, when it was voted to place $5,000 in the sinking fund instead of leaving it in the water fund. The matter of purchasing the property which the Lane estate wants to sell to the city for $8,000 did not receive favorable consideration. This is the site upon which the present fire station stands. The matter of cleaning up the property about N. Mont's house was left to the health and nuisance committee with power to act. The street committee was given authority to apply for its portion of the bridge money offered by the state for the construction of a bridge on Town hill to take the place of the culvert, which is inadequate. The street committee reported that it was ready to make repairs on Northfield street, including the placing of a bridge in place of a culvert which has caused the damage in recent years and which will give the city a chance to get some bridge money from the state. The council accepted the Grand Army of the Republic invitation to attend the Memorial day exercises. The finances were discussed at some length. It appears that the old city council left the new council enough work to do, if it is completed, to use all the funds available this year for street work. Those persons who sell fireworks in the city will be instructed by the city clerk that it is expected that sections 6921 and 6922 of the general laws, which prohibit the sale of, or setting fire to, crackers, squibs, rockets and other explosives under penalty of punishment by law, will be complied with. No fireworks are to be sold before 5 o'clock in the morning on the Fourth of July. It was voted to oil and sprinkle the same streets as last year. The matter to be reported at the next meeting. The police committee was given authority to change the patrolmen about so that some of them will not be compelled to work all of the time nights but may work a part of the time days and a part at night. The matter of making the shifts without expense to the city was also left to the police committee. The committee had decided to give the night men their turn on day service.

Montpelier high school gave Northfield high school baseball team a bad trimming on Montpelier seminary campus Wednesday afternoon, and when the game was finished the score was 17 to 3 in favor of Montpelier. For the first three innings it was a nice game, Northfield having the best of it because they had the best pitcher up to that time, when Montpelier bunched hits and Northfield bunched errors, with the result that the score was 6 to 0 in favor of Montpelier. Two more innings of nice playing took place and then Montpelier broke loose again, making four tallies in the seventh inning and six in the eighth. Milo, Montpelier's third sack man, made a nice triple in the seventh inning, scoring three men, while the other scores were due to loose playing on the part of Northfield. There were hardly any interesting points in the game excepting the errors and bunting of hits. Lamperti, Laird and Smith pulled off a nice double play in the sixth inning.

J. M. Boutwell and Calvin Parmenter are spending a few days in Dover, N. H., where they are looking over Mr. Boutwell's string of horses.

William Carey has resumed his work as operator in the Western Union office in Montpelier after two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. James O'Brien of Springfield, Mass., is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMahon, her parents.

A. L. Knight, who had one eye injured a week ago by a piece of steel hitting it, is recovering but is still unable to use the eye.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Gill left this morning for Rutland to commit to the house of correction Earl Raymond, who was found guilty in Barre city court of forgery.

The Green Mountain Dairy company, Inc., of East Bethel, has filed its paid-up capital stock of the company, which amounts to $8,300, with the secretary of state.

The fund which H. F. Graham, as governor of the state, raised about a year ago for removal of defects in children at hospitals is well nigh depleted but the secretary of the board of charities and probations has received assurance from another person in the state that the funds are to be available for the continuation of this work. The expenses run as high as $400 a month.

The report of an automobile accident in the long bridge in Waterbury has been made to the secretary of state. The automobile of Paul Dillingham of Montpelier collided with the team driven by George Farham of Waterbury last Sunday. Little damage was done to the team but the matter was reported to the secretary of state and the adjustment of affairs has taken place.

Charles H. Wishart of Barre has been appointed administrator of the estate of Nancy Wood, late of Barre.

W. H. Jeffrey returned last evening from Burlington, where yesterday the regular meeting of the board of charities and probations took place. Plans for the coming year's work, due to the change in the laws, which are effective after July 1, were considered. Charles Smith, one of the probation officers, has been working in Burlington this week.

Montpelier seminary baseball team claims the championship of the state now that Proctor high school team is out of the way. The manager of that team closed arrangements for a game for Wednesday afternoon. The team was in Burlington, but did not come here. The manager made the arrangements before the team had played Burlington, where it was defeated. The manager did not advise Coach Maiden of the seminary of any change in plans nor did he cancel the game, so that Montpelier was ready to play and had its practice so that the game might be hurried up for the Montpelier high school game. Proctor team having failed to appear after making arrangements for the game, Montpelier claims Proctor has no stand for the championship.

E. A. Young of Barre, who is in Heaton hospital, continues to improve each day.

Mrs. Fannie Burnham, aged 89 years, died at Heaton hospital this forenoon, she having been taken there about three weeks ago. She was born in Montpelier, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jared Wheelock, and she leaves a daughter, Eliza Doty of Northfield. The remains will be taken to that place and the funeral will be held there, probably on Saturday.

W. F. Scott, Benjamin Gates and Will L. Davis of the board of control, who spent the first three days of this week in a visit to Augusta, Me., where they looked over the accounting system of the state offices, returned last evening. They found some things in connection with the manner in which the accounts are kept there that will help Vermont and probably some in which Vermont has the better system, according to their ideas of things. They will shortly draft
